Looking for a DCA or a solicitor? We provide the best of both worlds

Our service

We have been working on behalf of companies in the publishing industry for more than 30 years and so we understand the nature of the debt and how to maximize collections.

We offer a complete recovery service from letter and telephone collections through to judgment and enforcement where necessary. For clients that have volume debt we take a shared risk approach whereby we charge a small percentage of the monies recovered, and if we were unsuccessful in making a recovery we would not charge.

All of our clients have a personal point of contact and our dedicated client manager for the publishing sector is Storm Joy. Storm has more than 10 years' experience in debt recovery and manages our pre-litigation team. She has a wealth of experience in collecting a broad range of different debt types. In 2015 Storm and her team recovered in excess of £7 million worth of debt for their clients.
