Our approach

We work closely with our clients to understand their unique circumstances and provide bespoke recovery solutions tailored to their individual requirements.

This approach means we are trusted business partners to some of the biggest names in the security, finance, utilities, insurance and local authority sectors, with our highly experienced team of industry professionals working on our clients' behalf.

To this end we can negotiate fees that are tailored to suit you and we can modify our processes to integrate with your internal workflows and procedures.

What our clients say:

"J&P Credit Solutions looks for a good outcome and works with people to get that. The staff are always approachable and contactable and it is the most effective-working relationship. The advice is practical and clear and no question is too small. We just email the team and they explain things very clearly."

Security Client

Looking for a DCA or a solicitor? We provide the best of both worlds

Our service

Our advanced IT solutions have enabled us to integrate our clients' networks with our own. As a result we have access to their systems and can offer a complete collections process from start to finish.

This allows us to deliver an efficient and streamlined debt recovery process, and our clients consider us an extension to their in-house credit control teams. We are able to tailor all of our collection processes to suit our clients' individual needs.

All of our clients have a personal point of contact and our dedicated client manager for the security sector is Storm Joy. Storm has more than 10 years' experience in debt recovery and manages our pre-litigation team. She has a wealth of experience in collecting a broad range of different debt types. In 2015 Storm and her team recovered in excess of £7 million worth of debt for their clients.
